

Jimi Vaughn

Jimi Vaughn is a passionate and charismatic disrupter whose transformative approach to challenging biases creates high-performing teams and thriving organizations. Currently serving as the VP of Diversity & Engagement for global VFX and postproduction company, Company 3, Vaughn has over a decade of experience working for top, global brands in the entertainment industry where he leads company-wide Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion strategy. He believes in the ethical responsibility of every decision-maker to afford opportunities for all by breaking down barriers that limit people based on their identity.

Jimi Vaughn previously served as President of the Board of Directors to the Down Syndrome Association of Los Angeles and has held positions on other non-profit boards serving the arts and marginalized ethnic groups. Currently, he serves on the Advisory Board of the Pipelines mobile app, which connects leading companies in creative, tech, and entertainment with underrepresented talent.

Vaughn has been featured for his work in Diversity & Inclusion on national broadcasts such as KIIS-FM, iHeart Radio, KLOS Radio, KYSR FM 98.7, KLAC AM 570, and KRRL FM 92.3.